

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Adams County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 6     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 368.6 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 23 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 1  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 9  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 9  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 2  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 34.5                 | 15.7   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Allegheny County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 43    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 392.4 |

|                              |     |
|------------------------------|-----|
| Total School Buildings       | 246 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 43  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 74  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 38  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 22  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 30  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 39  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 363.8                | 166.1  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Armstrong County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 4     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 516.7 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 18 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 4  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 1  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 4  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 4  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 2  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 21.0                        | 12.3  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Beaver County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 14    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 402.9 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 46 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 11 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 7  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 10 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 9  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 5  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 4  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 53.0                 | 26.9   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Bedford County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 5     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 386.6 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 16 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 2  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 3  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 7  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 2  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 16.0                        | 8.0   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Berks County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 18    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 371.8 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 95 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 14 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 40 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 19 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 18 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 4  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 191.0                | 70.8   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Blair County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 7     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 404.2 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 30 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 2  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 9  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 9  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 5  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 3  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 2  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 47.6                 | 18.2   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS

(SY 20-21)

Bradford County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 7     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 519.6 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 18 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 0  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 6  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 3  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 3  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 5  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 19.0                 | 16.0   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Bucks County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 13    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 396.1 |

|                              |     |
|------------------------------|-----|
| Total School Buildings       | 117 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 20  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 28  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 35  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 17  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 14  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 3   |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 237.0                | 84.0   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Butler County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 7     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 436.8 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 35 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 6  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 6  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 8  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 7  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 6  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 2  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 60.3                 | 31.3   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Cambria County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 12    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 402.2 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 33 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 4  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 9  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 6  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 7  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 4  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 3  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 39.5                 | 22.9   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Cameron County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 1     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 322.3 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 2 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 1 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 0 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 1 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 2.0                  | 0.1  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Carbon County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 5     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 393.3 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 17 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 5  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 2  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 4  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 2  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 20.0                        | 11.4  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Centre County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 4     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 330.0 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 26 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 5  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 11 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 6  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 1  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 2  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 39.6                 | 9.6  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Chester County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 12    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 402.3 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 95 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 14 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 24 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 21 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 22 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 12 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 2  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 207.3                | 69.7   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Clarion County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 7     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 313.7 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 15 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 8  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 3  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 16.4                 | 4.5  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Clearfield County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 8     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 332.5 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 23 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 13 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 6  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 1  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 33.5                 | 9.7  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Clinton County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 1     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 300.5 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 9 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 4 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 2 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 12.0                        | 2.8   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Columbia County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 6     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 303.6 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 21 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 8  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 6  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 2  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 2  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 3  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 30.0                 | 4.2  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Crawford County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 3     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 333.4 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 19 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 2  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 11 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 5  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 22.6                 | 7.8  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Cumberland County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 8     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 356.4 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 52 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 14 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 15 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 14 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 6  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 2  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 89.7                 | 30.0   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Dauphin County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 10    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 372.5 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 64 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 13 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 15 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 18 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 6  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 6  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 6  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 100.9                       | 36.3  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Delaware County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 15    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 379.6 |

|                              |     |
|------------------------------|-----|
| Total School Buildings       | 102 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 21  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 29  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 15  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 11  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 13  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 13  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 202.0                | 75.6   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS (SY 20-21)

Elk County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 3     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 416.1 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 10 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 1  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 3  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 2  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 3  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 8.0                  | 4.9  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS (SY 20-21)

Erie County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 13    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 444.2 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 64 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 12 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 10 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 14 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 13 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 13 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 2  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 91.1                 | 45.7   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Fayette County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 6     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 479.1 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 35 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 9  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 4  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 10 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 8  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 36.0                 | 23.0   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Forest County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 1     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 388.0 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 4 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 0 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 2 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 0 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 2 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 1.0                  | 0.6  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Franklin County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 5     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 479.1 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 36 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 2  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 5  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 5  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 9  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 8  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 7  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 42.0                        | 33.6  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Fulton County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 3     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 275.1 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 7 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 1 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 2 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 6.8                  | 1.1  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Greene County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 5     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 320.1 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 12 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 2  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 5  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 2  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 3  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 11.0                 | 6.9  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Huntingdon County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 4     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 350.9 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 14 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 3  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 3  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 1  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 3  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 13.0                        | 5.9   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Indiana County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 7     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 355.4 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 22 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 9  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 7  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 3  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 25.9                 | 8.6  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Jefferson County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 3     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 340.8 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 8 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 1 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 4 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 2 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 1 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 13.0                        | 3.7   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Juniata County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 1     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 316.5 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 5 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 1 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 1 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 2 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 6.0                  | 3.6  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Lackawanna County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 10    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 463.9 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 45 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 5  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 11 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 6  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 5  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 9  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 9  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 63.0                 | 41.6   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS

(SY 20-21)

Lancaster County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 16    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 397.5 |

|                              |     |
|------------------------------|-----|
| Total School Buildings       | 110 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 13  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 41  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 27  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 14  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 13  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 2   |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 181.2                | 75.3   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Lawrence County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 8     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 435.7 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 25 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 4  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 6  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 2  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 2  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 6  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 5  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 22.0                 | 22.4   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Lebanon County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 6     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 394.2 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 34 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 4  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 11 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 6  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 3  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 5  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 5  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 47.0                 | 30.4   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Lehigh County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 9     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 393.2 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 66 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 11 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 17 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 18 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 13 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 7  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 138.5                | 49.6   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Luzerne County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 11    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 585.5 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 59 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 1  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 12 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 5  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 10 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 25 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 6  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 76.0                 | 85.2   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Lycoming County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 8     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 421.7 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 31 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 6  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 10 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 7  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 4  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 4  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 43.0                 | 16.2   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

McKean County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 5     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 365.8 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 13 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 2  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 6  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 1  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 3  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 16.8                 | 6.3  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Mercer County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 12    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 371.3 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 37 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 8  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 13 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 4  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 2  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 4  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 6  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 36.0                 | 19.5   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Mifflin County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 1     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 420.6 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 9 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 2 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 0 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 4 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 1 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 2 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 12.0                 | 6.7  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Monroe County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 4     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 280.3 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 30 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 13 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 13 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 4  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 86.0                 | 6.3  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Montgomery County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 21    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 355.4 |

|                              |     |
|------------------------------|-----|
| Total School Buildings       | 150 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 34  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 37  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 48  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 11  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 9   |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 11  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 330.6                | 92.4   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Montour County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 1     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 503.1 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 4 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 1 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 1 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 0 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 1 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 7.5                  | 1.1  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Northampton County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 8     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 352.0 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 59 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 14 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 20 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 13 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 6  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 4  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 2  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 124.8                       | 33.7  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Northumberland County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 6     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 474.8 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 23 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 7  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 6  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 5  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 2  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 27.1                 | 16.8   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Perry County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 4     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 349.0 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 14 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 4  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 4  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 4  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 2  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 17.6                        | 4.8   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Philadelphia County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 1     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 392.3 |

|                              |     |
|------------------------------|-----|
| Total School Buildings       | 217 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 46  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 36  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 40  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 33  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 29  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 33  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 278.0                | 205.0  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Pike County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 2     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 335.3 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 12 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 5  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 2  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 3  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 2  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 27.0                 | 1.7  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Potter County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 5     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 649.4 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 10 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 4  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 1  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 6.3                  | 2.0  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Schuylkill County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 12    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 462.6 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 33 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 4  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 6  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 7  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 7  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 4  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 5  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 37.0                 | 30.9   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Snyder County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 2     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 389.3 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 8 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 0 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 3 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 3 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 2 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 12.0                        | 5.7   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Somerset County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 11    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 288.4 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 28 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 11 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 8  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 4  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 4  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 25.0                 | 8.7  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Sullivan County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 1     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 313.1 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 2 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 0 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 2 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 0 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 1.9                  | 0.5  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Susquehanna County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 6     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 271.2 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 14 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 8  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 2  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 2  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 24.0                        | -1.3  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Tioga County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 3     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 497.0 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 14 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 2  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 3  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 1  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 2  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 3  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 3  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 12.0                        | 8.8   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Union County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 2     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 356.3 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 8 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 2 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 3 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 1 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 1 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 12.0                        | 2.9   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Venango County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 5     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 390.6 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 19 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 1  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 6  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 8  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 1  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 2  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 1  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 20.4                 | 9.3  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Warren County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 1     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 410.0 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 9 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 1 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 4 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 3 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 1 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 12.0                 | 4.0  |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Washington County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 14    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 394.0 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 52 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 11 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 14 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 11 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 9  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 7  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 78.0                 | 26.2   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Wayne County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 2     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 295.3 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 10 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 3  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 3  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 4  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 0  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0  |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 16.0                        | 0.5   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Westmoreland County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 17    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 425.1 |

|                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| Total School Buildings       | 83 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 11 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 20 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 19 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 11 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 14 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 8  |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 113.9                | 60.6   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

Wyoming County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 2     |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 348.2 |

|                              |   |
|------------------------------|---|
| Total School Buildings       | 7 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 1 |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 4 |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 0 |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 2 |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 0 |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 0 |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 10.0                        | 2.4   |

PENNSYLVANIA COUNTY LEVEL
SCHOOL COUNSELOR RATIOS
(SY 20-21)

York County

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) recommends a student to school counselor ratio of 250 to 1.

Research demonstrates that lower student-to-school-counselor ratios are associated with higher student achievement measures, better graduation rates, and lower disciplinary incidents.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Number of School Districts in the County           | 16    |
| Average Building Student to School Counselor Ratio | 460.8 |

|                              |     |
|------------------------------|-----|
| Total School Buildings       | 111 |
| 250 or Less to 1             | 15  |
| 251 to 349 to 1              | 38  |
| 350 to 459 to 1              | 32  |
| 450 to 549 to 1              | 16  |
| 550 or Higher to 1           | 8   |
| No School Counselor Assigned | 2   |

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| School Counselors in County | School Counselors Needed to Achieve 250 to 1 Ratios |
| 180.4                | 74.0   |

